EDWIN WILLITS.

Washington, Oct. 24.-Edwin Willits, of Monroe. Mich., formerly Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, dled suddenly last night. He was born in 1822, and his early years were spent in Michigan on a farm. He was a graduate of the University of Michigan with Secretary Morton. Mr. Willits practised law in Monroe, Mich., for some years, and served three terms in Congress as Representative from that district. When General Rusk became Secretary of Agriculture he called Mr. Willis to Washington as Assistant Secretary. He served during Secretary Rusk's incumbency, and for some time with Secretary Morton. Since retiring from office he had practised law in this city. The body will be taken to Monroe for burial.

TWO "FRIENDS FROM INDIA" RACING. There is a race across the Atlantic, and it is not wiveen steamships. It is between rival producers if a play. The play is "My Friend from India," now running at the Hijou Theatre. H. A. du Souchet, the suther of the play, thought that he owned it, and he old the rights for England to Charles Frohman. Smyth & Rice, the managers of the play, thought that they owned it, and they sold the rights for Eng-land to W. A. Brady. Then the race began. Mr. Brady says that he sent a man to London a week ago Fracerday to attend to the production. He will not to who the man is, but says that he is an English sctor. Mr. Frohman sent his stage manager, Joseph Hamphreys, to London on Wednesday to attend to the production of the play. Thus Smyth & Rice and Mr. Brady have four days the start of Mr. Du Souchet and Mr. Frohman.

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

The season creeps on apace, but as yet there has been little else than weddings to occupy the attention of fashionable people, and there has been no entertaining in town, nor will there be until the so-cial forces have gathered here to enjoy the Horse Show and the opera, which begins at the Metropoli-tan Opera House on November 16.

The wedding of interest to society last week was that of Miss Edith Shepard, the second daughter of Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard, to Ernesto G. Fabbri, which was celebrated at noon on Tuesday, in the Shepard Memorial Chapel, at Scarborough-onthe-Hudson. A special train of parlor cars carried the guests to Scarborough. It was a picturesque affair, and the group of bridesmalds, in white moire touched with turquoise blue velvet, and carrying huge bouquets of pink reses and lilies of the valley, vas very artistic. The bride, too, was handsome The reception and breakfast at Mrs. Shepard's The reception and breakfast at Mrs. Shepard's country home, Woodlea, a pleasant drive from the church, were delightful incidents of the day. Naturally, the bride was generously remembered by the members of her immediate family, who showered her with presents fit for a princess of royal blood. To the few who had the privilege to see the presents there was revealed in one of the upper rooms of Mrs. Shepard's house a sight dazzling, if not sintiling. There were pieces of silverware of every description, jewels of all kit.ds, and on one table in the centre of the room a wonderful collection of gold dishes. Mr. and Mrs. Fabbri, when they have passed about two weeks at Biltmore, George Vanderbilt's vast estate, near Asheville. N. C., will go abroad, to remain the best part of the winter.

The important engagement announced last week was that of Miss Annie Corbin, made known by Miss Corbin's family on Thursday afternoon. The engagement has existed for a number of Mr. Corbin's consent to it was obyears, and Mf. Corbin's consent to it was obtained long before he met with the accident which caused his death at his farm at Newport, early last summer. Miss Corbin is well known in fashionable life, and she and her mother for several winters past gave a series of Saturday evening receptions delightful, informal gatherings, at their home, No. 425 Fifthave. At these parties one was sure to meet the most brilliant men and women in the social and artistic world. The marriage of Miss Corbin and Mr. Borrowe, who is the eldest son of the late Samuei Borrowe, of this city, will be celebrated within a few weeks, although no date has yet been set for the ceremony.

A LOWER TAX RATE LIKELY.

THE PROVISIONAL ESTIMATE FOR 1897 SHOWS A REDUCTION FROM THIS YEAR'S FIGURES.

Next year the tax rate will be about $212 on each $100 of assessed valuation. The provisional budget has been completed by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and after the usual parings here and there are made when it comes up for final passage in December next, the cost of running the city government will be about $45,500,000, a reduction last year's figures of about $1,000,000. fund for the reduction of taxes will be $3,500,000 fund for the reduction of taxes will be $3.50,000 next year, instead of $2.500,000 last year. This sum, when deducted from the total given, will bring the net sum to be raised by taxation next year. The largest decrease in expenses is in the Controller's office, where about £500,000 will be saved. The final estimate will be made in December, and until then no department will know positively what it may rely on for 1897.

IN MEMORY OF WILLIAM E. RUSSELL. Boston, Oct. 21.-Memorial services were held today in the Supreme Court rooms in honor of the late ex-Governor, William E. Russell. His brethren of the bar paid high tributes to his professional and personal character, and appropriate resolutions were presented by Attorney-General Knowlton.

THE ARCHBISHOP'S PROBABLE SUCCESSOR London, Oct. 24.-1t is expected in well-informed circles that the Right Rev. Dr. Mandell Creighton, Bishop of Peterbor righ, will be chosen as the essor of the late Most Rev. Edward White Benson, b. D., as Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of

WHEAT AND SILVER.

UNFORTUNATE FOR MR. BRYAN. From The Syracuse Post.

The rapid advance in the price of wheat is only nother illustration of the natural law of supply and emand. It is very unfortunate for Mr. Bryan that a these closing days of the campaign he should see its favortise argument knocked higher than the noon. The crime of '72 has not kept down the price twheat, and every penny added to the price drives nother nail in the free-silver coffin.

A COMPLETE OVERTHROW. From The Chicago Times-Herald.

The statistician closes his paper with a comparison of the prices of wheat and sliver for thirty years. The showing down to the markets for sliver and wheat in the last ninety days is a complete overthrow for the Bryanite fallacy. NEBRASKA AND THE CORN CROP.

From The Omaha Daily Bee.

This year's corn crop of Nebraska is conservatively estimated at 300,000,000 bushels. Why should any Nebraska farmer forswear allegiance to King Corn and bow in worship before the silver idol, when the price of corn is rising and the price of silver falling?

IT IS FOR THE FARMERS TO SAY. From The Pittsburg Dispatch.

The crippling of the home market by the Democratic regime has been the cause of the farmers' adversity for three years past. Do they wish to have it crippled still more by the theft from the wages of labor of 40 to 30 per cent of its purchasing power, so that this market for their products will be still further cut down? From The Pittsburg Dispatch.

HIS CREED BEFUDDLED. From The Chicago Tribune.

From The Chicago Tribune.

Bryan has been made ridiculous in the eyes of the farmers of the wheat-raising States and his creed has lost the power to befuddle or deceive. The one point he has harped on to them is that the low price of wheat has been caused by the demonetization of silver and that wheat could not rise again until silver should be rehabilitated. Wheat, depending exclusively as ever on the law of supply and demand, bearing no special relation whatever to silver, suddenly jumped up in price, leaving the Popocrats wallowing in the muddy ditch they had dug for themselves.

AN EFFECT ON PROFITS AND VOTES. From The Boston Herald.

THE YALE NAVY REGATTA.

MODIFIED HENLEY STROKE EMPLOYED BY THE JUNIOR CREW PROVES A

DECIDED SUCCESS. New-Haven, Conn., Oct. 24 (Special) .-- The fall regatta of the Yale Navy was held here on Lake Whitney to-day under the most favorable circumstances. All of the races, which were confined to those between the eight-oar crews of the different classes, were close and exciting. the afternoon was the breaking of the record for the course by the '98 crew, who rowed the distance in 4:18, fourteen seconds less than any previous record. This is ascribed to the superior stroke sed by the juntors.

There were four crews entered in the regatta-the crews of the junior, sophomore and freshman classes in the academic department, and one from the freshman class of the Sheffield Scientific School. Each crew had been well trained, and every man prime condition.

The first heat, between the two freshman crews, proved to be the closest of the day. The two boats were neck and neck right up to the finish. and the Sheffield freshmen, who came in ahead, had not more than five or six feet to spare. The time

The second heat, between the junior and sophomore crews, was not so well contested, as the sophomores rowed in poor form; '98 won handily by a length.

The most interesting race of the afternoon was the final heat between the junior and Sheffield freshman crews. The rowing of a sharp race, with no lagging by the junior crew, has been looked forcard to with interest all this fall, because of the act that this crew was rowing a stroke which is a nodification of the old Yale stroke and embodies care of the principles learned at Henley last sum-

The experiment proved a decided success. The

The experiment proved a decided success. The longer back swing and more even recovery which had been introduced gave the boat unexpected speed, and left the men as fresh at the end of the race as they were at the beginning. The oars were clipped also, in English fashion, and this added to the speed of the boat.

It was noticed that, while the body work was not to precity, the watermanship was almost perfect and the stroke a longer and a stronger one. The limitors won by at least half a length.

The significance of this victory lies in the fact that this modified form of stroke will certainly be introduced into Varsity rowing next spring. Captain Ealicy, of the University crew, who watched the race particularly for this reason, was satisfied and pleased with the result.

LYING IN STATE IN ATLANTA.

EX-SPEAKER CRISP'S BODY TO BE TAKEN TO AMERICUS THIS MORNING-THE SENATORSHIP CANVASS.

Atlanta, Oct. 24 (Special).-With a full military escort and with the honors due to his high rank in the State, the body of ex-Speaker Crisp removed early this morning from the sanitarium where he died yesterday afternoon to the rotunda of the State Capitol. There it remained in state day, while the and under guard throughout the people filed by and gave a last look at their distinguished fellow-citizen. Early Sunday morning it will be placed on board the Georgia Central train and taken to Mr. Crisp's old home at Ameri-

members of Mr. Crisp's immediate family, and a special escort of honor, composed of the Governor, members of the Georgia Senate and House of Representatives and other prominent citizens. The funeral service will take place at Americus at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Already the politicians are actively canvassing the outlook for the Senatorship, which would have been Mr. Crisp's. Governor Atkinson is a strong possibility, but against his selection is being brought the argument that he has just been reelected Governor, and his resignation of that office would involve the trouble and turmoil and expense of a special election. Captain Evan P. pense of a special election. Captain Evan P. Howell is looking up as a possibility. It is considered likely that he will make the race, and as he has led the free-silver movement in Georgia, both in person and through his paper. "The Atlanta Constitution," he will probably be a formislable contestant. There is a pronounced feeling that ex-Secretary Smith would fill the place admirably, as being probably the ablest man in the State, but his pronounced sound-money views are in the way of his choice by a free-silver Lexislature. There is some talk, too, of bringing out General Gordon as his own successor, though he announced some time ago his retirement from politics.

THE GALES AND INJURY TO HER MACHINERY.

Among the passengers arriving last night on the Canard Line steamer Etruria, from Liverpool and Queenstown, was Father John F. Kearney, of St. Patrick's Cathedral, who has been abroad for four Father Kearney was met at Quarantinby Father Murphy and a number of friends, and after Dr. Doty, the Health Officer, had cleared the steamer, he was taken on board the tug Jason, which was in waiting, and was brought to the city. The Etrurla was ordered by the agents, Vernon H. Brown & Co., to remain anchored off Quarantine overnight, as it was feared that if an attempt was made to dock her while the marine parade was in progress in the North River some accident might happen. Father Kearney will take part in the anniversary mass at St. Patrick's to-day.

Among the other passengers on the Etruria were F. Bronson Coleman, J. Sergeant Cram, John H. Davies, A. Butler Duncan, the Rev. Dr. T. F. James, Captain A. C. Kelton, Colonel P. H. Lake, Bradley Martin, jr., George Peet and Bishop Physics

Phelan.

The Etruria was about ten hours behind her usual time. The delay was due partially to the violent gale which was encountered after the vessel left Queenstown. On Friday morning the machinery became disarranged and it was found necessary to stop the engines for about five hours to make renairs.

A NEW SAVANNAH LINE STEAMSHIP. The steamship La Grand Duchesse, which was launched at Newport News, Va., on January 20, will take her place in the fleet of the Savannah Line early next month. She is built of steel and is equipped with every modern device for the safety comfort of passengers. Her dimensions are 404 feet long over all, 380 feet between perpen diculars, 47 feet 9 inches beam and 37 feet 4 Inches deep from top of deck to base line. She will be fitted with two steel masts, fore-and-aft rigged. She has a water bottom, extending from her stuf-fing-box bulkhead to her collision bulkhead, and numerous steel decks. The machinery consists of two inverted, direct-acting, service-condensing, wheels made of the best manganese bronze. The total horse-power of the engines is about 7,000. The Savannah Line steamship Kansas City, which sailed from New-York at 5 p. m., Thursday, October 8, reached Savannah, Ga., at 2:30 p. m. on Saturday, October 10, making the sail in forty-five and one-half hours, dock to dock. quadruple-expansion engines, driving twin screws
